"THE CARDS OF LIFE."

Life's but a game of cards we all must play
With fate the dealer; in a puzzling way
The deck is stacked upon us, and the hand
We sometimes hold we cannot understand.
For one a full house always, and for one
A busted straight or flush, so luck will run;
A queen for an unworthy knave's abuse,
And for a king a woman who's the deuce;
Diamonds for some, but better one true heart;
For others clubs; and spades when all depart.
Thro' life we plunge or pike; we practice guile;
Bluff maybe; try to win each other's pile!
Until death calls us, whereupon we leave
The table with a few behind to grieve.
They gather in our chips, while outward goes
The soul upon that journey no one knows.
Grant when at last we stand at heaven's gate
Where Peter from Missouri lies in wait,
That we can show him: grant up there that we
Can tell the good saint, with conscience free,
"Master, I know not whether I made good,
But still I played my hand the best I could,
And on the square;" then, even with our sin,
Perhaps we'll hear those blessed words,
"Come in!"
'Tis not the cards that count beyond the skies,
It is the way they're played wins paradise!
—Malcolm Douglas.

WHOLESOME

City Ordinances Apparently Buried in a Grave of Forgetfulness

Ancient history is excellent and instructive reading hetimes, keeping one in touch with the manners and customs of other days, and then it is writ that old things shall become new and serve its purpose today as well as it did yesterday.

In looking over the City Ordinances, promulgated for some good and wise purpose, we find the following—

CURFEW LAW—"Be it ordained by the Board of Council of the City of Maysville, That it shall be unlawful for any person, under the age of sixteen years, to be, remain or loiter upon any of the ways of said city, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the evening and 4 o'clock in the morning, unless accompanied by their parents or guardian, or have in their possession the written permission of their parents or guardian to be on the public ways of said city between 9 o'clock p. m. and 4 o'clock a. m."

Good law, and should be enforced. The Police are expected and required to inform parents or guardian of the fact and if they fail or refuse to make the boy or girl comply with the provisions of the Ordinance the Police officers shall report the violation to the Mayor and Chief of Police, who shall cause a warrant to be issued and executed upon them, and upon conviction before the Police Judge shall be fined not less than $1 nor more than $5. Now, that's all right, too.

Further along in the book we again read—RIVER BANK—"That it shall be unlawful for any person to throw or deposit any filth, manure, shavings, straw or rubbish of any kind over the river bank in front of the city that may become a nuisance. Any person so offending shall be fined not exceeding $20."

Is the law violated, you ask? Well, just take a peep along the bank from Wall to Market streets, and say what you think of it yourself.

Of course there is no such a hybrid in the city, but then there is a law providing for such mongrels as follows—

"NEGLECT TO SUPPORT ONE'S FAMILY—"That whosoever being a citizen of the City of Maysville, shall wilfully neglect, and by reason of idleness or drunkenness, or any other immoral cause, fail to provide for his family dependent on him for support, upon conviction before the Police Judge shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $50 nor less than $5, or confined in the workhouse at hard labor not more than 60 nor less than 10 days, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Police Judge."

That too, is a righteous and just law.

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Pursuant to the directions of the party authorities, the Republicans of Mason county are called to meet in mass convention at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday afternoon, June 16th, at 1:30 o'clock, standard time, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention to be held in Louisville, June 19th, which State Convention is to nominate a Republican state ticket to be voted for at the coming November election. Mason county is entitled to 30 votes in the State Convention.

W. D. COCHRAN,
Chairman Republican Executive Committee Mason County.

This happened at Jackson, the Hargis home: JIM MANN was sentenced to eighteen years in the Pen. for shooting at Town Marshal Jim Slidham. If the first JIM had killed the Marshal he would have likely been burned at the stake or hung on a telephone pole. MANN is merely an anti-Hargis sympathizer.

A RECENT dispatch from Washington states that President ROOSEVELT's right-hand man in the great railroad fight in the Sixtieth Congress—the man who will do his heavy work on the floor of the Senate—will be Senator JOHN P. DOLLIVER, of Iowa. He will, in fact, 'tis said, be known as the "President's representative." Senator DOLLIVER is a recent convert to the Roosevelt method of investigating and governing the railroads, and any one who has seen him while in action on the floor of the Senate readily size him up as an invincible gladiator on the forum. His voice is as resonant as the lion's roar and his style of oratory is of the terribly-persuasive-logical sort that carries conviction to the hearer and awe to opponents. DOLLIVER is the ablest campaign orator in the country, and as a forcible speaker, he has few, if any equals.

SPEAKING of the next Democratic nominee for the Presidency, Mr. BRYAN said it was simply a question of finding a man to fit the platform. Mr. BRYAN's elucidation of such a simple little thing as selecting a Democratic nominee is about as clear as Nebraska mud. Editor WATTERSON, the Sherlock Guck of the 'situation', declares the winner is to be a dark horse with a mustache. Has a "dark horse with a mustache" any resemblance to the patron Saint of Democracy wearing two long ears?

LAST Saturday at Lexington there were 17 arrests made by the police, 16 of which were Negroes and 1 white man. But, en passant, we wish to ask how many white men do you imagine were drunk in Lexington last Saturday night that escaped arrest? There are several degrees of drunks, and in police circles they are classified all the way from the besotted and maudlin bum and whisky-soaked Nigger, to the white gentleman who is tanked up with 15-cent liquor and is built especially to carry an awful jag with apparent ease by cultivating the Chesterfieldian habit of appearing "eminently respectable" when "half sea's over," because he wears swell clothes, smokes fine cigars and makes a noise like a good fellow. There are grades in everything, why not the graded drunk? But, possibly, all drunks are still in the de-graded class. If you must drink, don't acquire the bum habit, or the cops 'll get you if you don't watch out.

WHAT THEY SHOULD WEAR.

A toper should wear a swallow-tail coat.
A woodsman, a cutaway.
Sailors should wear white caps.
Firemen, long hose.
Poor ball players, muffs.
A housemaid should wear a linen duster.
A snake charmer, a boa.
A musical lady, an accordion skirt of organdy, with fluted trimmings.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spir-its are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound keeps the feminine organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures Inflammation, Ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides, I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

"THE BEST LAID PLANS"

By ROBERT CARLTON BROWN.

George's heart gave another violent thump as he stood on the platform waiting for the last morning express. There she was again. Who could she be? For weeks George had noticed the trim young woman in the brown tailor made suit. They usually caught the same train and George usually sat near her and watched her over the top of his paper.

Falling in love was not an everyday affair with George Vincent, as it is with many young fellows. It was an event to him. He could think of nothing else but that trim little woman.

To think that she went to work daily with all those gruff, boorish business men. The thought pained the sensitive young fellow. He blushed at his hope that some time she would not have to go to work daily.

Soon he found himself going further in this line of thought and picturing his departure in the morning leaving her behind to welcome him on his return in the evening. Each time these pictures recurred in his mind there were elaborations, and then new pictures would suggest themselves.

Day by day his feelings grew. He prayed for an introduction to her. He could think of nothing else but the joy of meeting her. How he would pour out his soul to her and tell her of his longing. It might not be conventional to do all this at the first meeting, but in love there is no conventionalities. She would be overwhelmed with his great love, and she would listen, and, perhaps, in time—but then George dared not let himself think further on the subject.

It all depended on that first meeting. He must impress her with his sincerity; he must make an impression upon her and at least obtain the privilege of calling upon her.

Constantly he was on the qui vive for a chance to meet her. He asked all his friends if they knew her, but none of them could give him any satisfaction. No one seemed to know her.

Feverishly he hunted up a man who knew her and was introduced. Trembling with emotion he asked if he might have a dance. She handed him her programme in answer, and he took a dance and the extra following it.

Then, half delirious with joy, he rushed into the smoking room and consumed innumerable cigarettes, in an effort to calm himself while waiting. The intervening dances seemed unending.

With great excitement he approached her when his dance came. She smiled pleasantly and the two waltzed off together. The rhythm of that dance was luscious to poor George. He hardly knew what he was saying when the dance was finally over, and he told her it was much cooler on the veranda.

They walked out on the club porch together and made for a couple of chairs at one end.

As soon as George realized that they were alone, he burst out wildly. The time had come to tell her of his great love.

"I have long waited for this chance," he breathed hotly. "It has kept me alive for the last month. I have so wanted to see you. Every day that I saw you on the car made me the more anxious to know you."

"Yes—yes," she encouraged him, as he faltered in his speech.

"I—I love you. I—I love you more than—"

"Oh," she cried, starting from her chair, quickly.

"Don't—don't leave me," he broke out wildly. "I am mad with my love. Don't—don't leave me. Stay—stay and hear the rest."

"O, I can't," she gasped, starting for the door.

"Why—why can't you let me explain?" poor Vincent spluttered.

"Why—why, you see, I'm engaged, and he might not like it," the girl replied.

Inaccessible Region.

A cablegram from India recently announced that a native cartographer had been murdered by tribesmen while attempting to penetrate in disguise to Miri Padam. This Miri Padam is, now that the secrets of Lassa have been laid bare, given first place as the most inaccessible inhabited spot on the face of the globe. Up to now no civilized traveler, either European or Asiatic, has ever succeeded in setting foot inside this mysterious mountain city. Miri Padam is barely two days' march from the frontier of Assam, whither its people come periodically in order to trade. But they, on their part, will allow no corresponding privileges. Fierce and untamable, owing no allegiance to any government, their idea is to kill off hand any stranger presuming to approach anywhere near their stronghold.

A great union of working girls is planned at Chicago.

There was no game yesterday between the Indians and the home team. Shortly before the hour to play ball a terrific down pour of rain set in driving everybody off the field. Rain continued to fall more or less all afternoon and the night game had to be declared off. Had the weather been favorable large numbers would have witnessed the games.

The famous Princess Anne hotel at Virginia Beach, Va., built twenty-five years ago and one of the handsomest summer resort hotels along the Middle Atlantic seaboard, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. There were 110 persons—guests and employees—in the hotel. All are thought to have escaped, with the exception of Emma Clark, a Negro chambermaid, and John Eaton, the white steward. There were no fire escapes. The safe was unlocked and many valuables were destroyed. The total loss is $200,000.

els, tone up the system generally, and bring back the snap to body and mind that now seem dull and worn out. Try it and see if you won't be as pleased as Mr. Hull, whose letter I quote below:

"I suffered a general breaking down of the system. Had no appetite, poor digestion and was constipated. I lost ambition and took no interest in anything. Nothing I could do seemed to give me relief until upon a friend's advice I began to use Cooper's New Discovery. It helped me from the start. Now I am able to do as much work as the next one and I enjoy it. I have a hearty appetite and am stronger and better every way. Your New Discovery medicine is certainly the best tonic and system builder I have ever known." A. W. Hull, 142 Porter St., Detroit, Mich.

These are the famous medicines with which Mr. Cooper recently created such a stir in Chicago. His demonstrations there attracted wide attention. We are agents.

THOMAS J. CHENOWETH

THE MAN FROM MAYSVILLE

Urges Better Care of the White House of the Confederacy

Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser, June 8th.

C. E. Curran, a well known traveling man of Kentucky, after visiting the First White House of the Confederacy and noting its general dilapidation, was yesterday moved to announce that he would head a subscription and do anything in his power to help in any movement to restore and maintain it. Mr. Curran makes Montgomery only once a year and on each visit he walks around to see the relic of the Confederacy.

He said yesterday he was shocked to see the way in which the old building was allowed to decay.

"I do not want to be presumptions and 'butt in' on a matter that some people might say does not concern me," said Mr. Curran. "But this matter does concern me. It concerns every man interested in the history of his country." That building was the home of Jefferson Davis. It was the First White House of the Confederacy. It saw the beginning of the greatest chapter of history of modern times. It is a visible reminder to future generations of that time in history, which stands out clearer and more distinct than any other period of American history.

"I may be pardoned if I say that if almost any other city of the Union had such a great relic, it would be zealously preserved. I suppose Montgomery has encountered some obstacles in taking charge of it and maintaining it. I feel such an interest in the matter that I am ready to make a subscription to a movement for its preservation and to assist it in any way in my power.

"I saw the old building last summer and as soon as I got here yesterday I walked around to see it again. I was shocked to see the roads that time and decay had made on it in one short year.

"My home is in Maysville, Ky., which was on the border when the great war was in progress.

I suppose my town, according to population, furnished more men, both to the Federal and Confederate armies, than any other town in the country.

"In Maysville General Albert Sidney Johnston of the Confederate Army and General William Nelson of the Union Army, spent their boyhood. It is an interesting fact that the two lived in the same house, although at different periods. General Grant, although he lived in Ohio, went to school in Maysville. In Kentucky, although in a different section of the state, the two great men of the struggle, Jefferson Davis and Abraham Lincoln, were born.

"As a result of this Maysville, perhaps, takes an unusual interest in all that bears upon the war. Feeling that interest, I hope any movement to preserve the great relic of history here at Montgomery will succeed."

When told of the efforts of the Ladies' White House Memorial Association to save the old home, Mr. Curran heartily endorsed the efforts of the ladies and declared that the movement had evidently not received the support that the men of Alabama should have given it.

Harvest Time!

Will soon be here. Say, Mr. Farmer, do you want to have a successful harvest? If you do you will need a Deering Binder and Deering Twine. Did you ever stop to think that Deering Twine has more pounds to the foot than any other twine made? We are agents for both the DEERING BINDER and DEERING TWINE!

And will be very glad to have our man demonstrate to you the good qualities of both. Come in. Put in your order for Twine early, as there is an advance in price expected.

"YOUR PERSONAL CHARMS"

A lady's taste is judged as much by the perfume she uses as by the dress she wears. It emphasizes her personality—if fine. The lady who adopts any of our perfumes acquires an additional "personal charm," because it's the unusual that attracts, whether in dress, carriage or "her atmosphere." We are in a position to show a line of perfumes unsurpassed by none, as we carry the leading order of the foremost perfumers, such as Colgate, Wright, Palmer, Hildner, Freeman, Rickelacker, Ringer and others. See our window display. Come in and we will perfume your handkerchief.

STATE COLLEGE GIRL

Plays Rattling Game of Base Ball Like Professional

Lexington Herald.

Accepting the invitation of her preceptors to assist them in their effort to defeat their pupils, Miss Beulah Hayden, a student at State College, donned a baseball suit yesterday and played eight fast and furious innings in the game of baseball yesterday afternoon between the faculty and the seniors.

Without the slightest exaggeration Miss Hayden's playing was the feature of the game, and before the game was half over she was cheered as she pulled down wild throws and bit the leather on the nose for two baggers.

Although the faculty met with defeat by the score of 8 to 4, had it not been for Miss Hayden's excellent playing, the score would have been much larger. Miss Hayden knows how to hunt and pilfers bases like a veteran, instead of a college girl.

COAL PRODUCTION

On the Increase in Kentucky—Some Weighty Figures

The total production of coal in the United States in 1906 according to the official statistics of the Geological Survey at Washington, just published, was 414,039,581 short tons of 2,000 pounds, valued at $512,610,744. As compared with the figures of the previous year when the output was 392,919,341 tons, valued $476,756,963, this shows an increase of 5.4% in quantity and of 7.5 in value.

Of the total production in 1906 Pennsylvania contributed 200,546,094 tons, or 48.4 in quantity, and $262,182,935, or 51.1% in value.

Kentucky maintains her position as the eighth state in point of production of coal. Her output in 1906 was 9,673,536 short tons, valued at $9,794,823, being an increase of 1,634,890 tons over the production of 1905.

There has been a healthy development of mining industries in Southeastern Kentucky which, but for the car shortage prevailing generally, would have shown a larger percentage of production. This, together with the extension of railroads up the Big Sandy valley, now in progress, give promise of still greater production in the future and Kentucky's advance in the list of coal-producing states.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

COURT COSTS

A Test Suit Compromised at Mt. Sterling Last Week

A unique suit—the first of its kind in the state—was compromised Friday at Mt. Sterling.

In a recent decision, the Kentucky Court of Appeals held that in Police Court costs only 50 cents could be claimed, this for the arresting officer. Heretofore $1 for the arresting officer and $2 for the attorneys fees had been assessed.

When the Court of Appeals decided this illegal, Messrs. Earl W. Luff and John A. Judy, attorneys of Mt. Sterling, went to the records and secured the name of every person who had been fined in Police Court in that city for five years previous. They then secured permission of the parties to sue for a return of $2.50 each, which had been illegally collected as costs.

Suit was instituted in the name of Almanza Byrd, and the city of Mt. Sterling, through R. A. Chiles and D. L. Dow, has just compromised 225 cases, paying over the sum of $450.

There are many other cases standing which the city will compromise, and in the end will have to refund about $1,200.

The outcome of the case has been watched with interest and similar suits will now be filed in many other cities.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Maysville Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure those troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Maysville people testify to permanent cures.

W. H. Paul, carpenter by trade, living at 333 East Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I value Doan's Kidney Pills as highly today as I did when I first used them in 1899. I got a box and used it for a pain in my back and other evidences of a disordered condition of the kidneys which had given me much trouble for two years or more. This remedy acted promptly and I was soon cured. I did not notice any of the difficulties until a year ago. I again procured Doan's Kidney Pills and all symptoms of the trouble were quickly and thoroughly removed. Since then I have not noticed any signs of trouble of any kind arising from my back or kidneys. I most cheerfully re-endorse Doan's Kidney Pills for they are certainly worthy of recommendation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box.
